Secure remote access

Insurance Group Agency

The challenge

It is not uncommon for us to take over a network for a client and find that the existing network has one or more security concerns. Such was the case for this larger Insurance Agency that provides corporate, personal and business insurance.

navitend's role

After getting detailed information around "who" needed access to the network and understanding "how" they operated, we installed and configured a secure remote access solution which is easy to use and easy to manage.

The result

This client now enjoys not only a more secure remote access solution, but they now have a periodic review of their user community to make sure only the required workers have access to the network.
